Welcome to our spicy book club resource page, where we turn the page to a whole new chapter of fun! Get ready to dive into a world of plot twists and character arcs as we leaf through our current book selection. We've provided the Dirty Dozen; twelve spicy and intriguing questions to spark discussion and help you uncover the spine-tingling depths of the story.

The Dirty Dozen

Foreplay - Warm Up Questions

1. What's the overall spice level? 1 (Not Spicy) - 10 (Spiciest Thing I've Ever Read)?
2. How does the spice level compare to the other books we've read together?
3. Knowing what Charlotte knows by the time the offer is made, would you have accepted Emerson's offer of a "regular secretary" job?

The Spicy Bits - Gettin' Down and Dirty with the Plot

4. Charlotte is interested in the throne room... what room would you be looking for in the SPC? (No shame, just vibes.)
5. What do you think is the real issue... the age gap or the fact that it's Beau's dad?
6. Thoughts on the quote: "I'd rather be Emerson's pet than Beau's girlfriend." Did it hit? Or did it cross a line?
7. Emerson shows up at Sophie's birthday party uninvited. Was that a grand gesture or a red flag?
8. Did Charlotte find herself or lose herself over the course of the story?
9. Discuss this quote: "I'd rather be someone people deem as depraved or sinful than being narrow-minded and hateful." How does this tie into the book's larger message about sex, shame, and society?
10. Were you surprised by how the story explored trust, especially with Charlie's past and family? Did anything feel particularly real or raw?

11. If you had to create a rule for yourself as a member of the SPC, what would it be? (Fun, spicy, or serious!)

Aftercare - Final Thoughts

12. Did you feel like Emerson and Charlie's relationship was balanced and healing by the end? Would you read more in this universe?

Bonus: What questions do you have for the author? If you could dog-ear a page with a question for the author, what would it be?
