Book Discussion Resource Page

Welcome to our spicy book club resource page, where we turn the page to a whole new chapter of fun! Get ready to dive into a world of plot twists and character arcs as we leaf through our current book selection. For novellas and short stories, we've provided the The Enticing Eight; eight spicy and intriguing questions to spark discussion and help you uncover the spine-tingling depths of the story.

The Enticing Eight

Foreplay - Warm Up Questions

1. What's the overall spice level? 1 (Not Spicy) - 10 (Spiciest Thing I've Ever Read)?
2. How does the spice level compare to the other books we've read together?
3. When Christmas rolls around, are you more of an Elsie or a Grant?

The Spicy Bits - Gettin' Down and Dirty with the Plot

4. Elsie's Christmas market vision leans whimsical, bordering on childlike. Do you think her brand of magic is exactly what the town needs, or is she skating dangerously close to a sugar-coated disaster?
5. Grant stepping in with the pie lady: was that him crossing a line into her business, or was it the solid, steel-spined support Elsie has been craving without admitting it?
6. If your grandmother behaved like Elsie's Nona, would you adore her meddling energy or would she be the emotional equivalent of a live wire you try to avoid touching?
7. The rage room: cathartic therapy or reckless avoidance? And when everything finally explodes, whose fault was it: Elsie's, Grant's, or is no one actually to blame?

Aftercare - Final Thoughts

8. They christen the new truck in broad daylight right outside the coffee shop. Would that thrill you, mortify you, or make you respect their zero-shame commitment to the moment?

Bonus: Would you have wanted a full book based on these characters or was the novella enough for you?
